Shelton Talks on Water at Kiwanis

M. J. Shelton, general manager of the La Mesa, Lemon Grove and Spring Valley Irrigation District, told the Lemon Grove and visiting Alpine Kiwanians of the efforts to save water Wednesday noon at Community Center.

He stated that in spite of the unprecedented growth of the area served by the water district during the past year, the consumers used 14.60% less water in May this year than in the same month last year.

Mr. Shelton pointed out that the water conservation program is just getting under way, and that it is a long range program aimed at saving water until such time as the second aqueduct is completed, unless this area has an unusually heavy rainfall during the next winter season.

A powerful siren that can be heard over a radius of several miles will be installed atop the Lemon Grove fire station within a few days.

The siren will be used to summon the call men each time a fire alarm is turned in. The men report to the station and from there follow the truck to the fire.

Display the Flag Next Thursday, Flag Day, Honoring Old Glory

About a year ago, one of our women's groups working energetically for community service tried to get the business houses to adopt a plan to display the American Flag on patriotic days. Through no fault of the ladies, nothing was accomplished.

The flag is raised over the post office and the big lemon on Imperial each day, as well as on the sun deck of Attorney Hussey's law offices. On Decoration Day, the flag was not raised on Imperial a patriotic citizen informs us.

Next Thursday is Flag Day and the Review urges that all who can will display the flag in front of their place of business or homes.

The American Flag has always symbolized the hopes and aspirations of our country.

The stars of our original flag were to represent "the constellation of States arising in the West," and their arrangement in a circle denoted the perpetuity of the Union. The 13 stripes signified the "subordination of the States to the Union, as well as equality among themselves." Red denoted defiance; white purity; blue resistance to oppression.

The addition of a star, and in the early days, a stripe also, for each new state, reflected the march of the pioneers across the continent. Long before our Nation attained the world eminence it now enjoys, the American Flag was carried into battle in resistance to piracy on the high seas, in the preservation of the Union and in many lesser conflicts. In the modern era Old Glory has become the hope of liberation to oppressed peoples the world over.

The annual observance of Flag Day on June 14 gives us a special opportunity to review the achievements our national banner has insured in the past and to contemplate the promise it holds for the future. In so doing we shall keep before us the high purpose of America and renew the determination to fulfil it.

SCANNING THE WEEK'S NEWS
of Main Street and the World

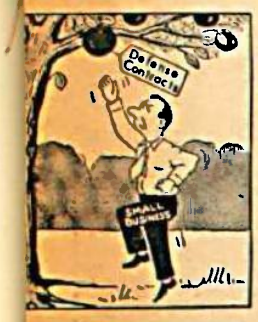
mall Business Casualty of Defense; Meat Price Rules Confuse Consumer

THE FOUNDATION THREATENED—According to several nation-economic surveys made public in the last week or so, small business becoming a casualty of defense. This is a serious and frightening fact thousands of small towns, because about 3,670,000 small businesses rm the foundation of the American economic pyramid, many of them cated in the home towns of the nation.

In the first two years of World War II, 16 per cent of the small businesses of the country were forced to close down. There are reports that many observers believe the fatality rate in the present defense mobilization program may be even higher than in those years.

A Washington report revealed that congressional small business committees are receiving an average of 500 letters a day appealing for information and help from small businessmen.

Several reasons are given for the present difficulties. The most important are shortages of materials—allocation of steel, aluminum, etc., from civilian consumption to defense projects; the inability of small business to qualify for defense contracts; and the expansion of big business to avoid subcontracting, formally a profitable source for small business.



UP A TREE—Mild mannered, popular Gen. Omar Bradley, remembered by thousands of World War II veterans in the home towns of America as the "GI's general," put the combined senate armed services and foreign relations committees up a tree during his testimony on the removal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur from his Pacific commands.

To begin with, General Bradley caused a stir among the Republican members of the committees by upholding the administration's actions with the sweeping statement that General MacArthur's Korean plans would involve us in the wrong war, at the wrong place, at the wrong time, and with the wrong enemy."

But when he flatly refused to tell the senators about his private talks with the President on the recall of MacArthur, he chased the committees up a tree.

For a day committee members argued among themselves whether they should take some kind of contempt action against the general. They voted 18 to 8, however, against such action expressing the view that it might set a dangerous precedent.

To the home town veteran, however, it seemed more likely the senators remembered Gen. Bradley's popularity with the men that make up big part of today's Main Street population.

NEW DRAFT LAW—Senate and house conferees, attempting to reach a compromise on the two bills previously passed by the groups, finally reached a settlement calling for extension of the draft until July 1, 1955, with men of 18½ eligible for induction for 24 months of service.

The old draft bill expires July 1. The new one will require all men to register on becoming 18. They would be examined and classified before they were 18½ and would be eligible for induction thereafter, providing a pool of men from 19 to 26 in their individual draft districts had been exhausted by the local boards.

The bill will put a five million person ceiling on the combined army, navy, air forces and marines. It also requires that all draftees, volunteers, and reserves have at least four months' basic training before being assigned outside the United States.

UP TO OLD TRICKS—After rejecting American plans for a peace treaty with Japan, the Russians reverted to their old tricks in proposing their version of a treaty. The Soviet plan, which was rejected by the United States, would bar foreign forces from Japan after the occupation ends and thereby block an arrangement for American troops to help provide Japanese security.

It was the same type of thing the Russians so successfully carried out in Korea and which led to the present situation in Asia. No one can believe the Russians thought the United States would accept their plan, but one has to give them credit for having the nerve to suggest it.

There is little possibility now of Russia joining in the American peace treaty which is nearing conclusion.

BEWILDERED HOUSEWIVES—Home town housewives entered their Main Street stores and meat markets on Monday, May 14, without their usual dread of visiting a meat counter. The government had just ordered cut in meat prices.

After one quick look she became a startled and confused housewife. For the next 10 days she became more bewildered. Meat prices were not down according to her figures—but up!

What the home town housewife saw was porterhouse steak up 7 cents a pound and sirloin up 9 cents. Round steak was down 2 cents—not enough to mention, and short ribs of beef down 8 cents—as she had expected of other cuts.

According to the government, however, the up and down price juggling of beef actually produced an over-all savings to the housewife of one-half of 1 per cent.

This she couldn't understand. One-half of 1 per cent didn't do a thing for her meat budget.

FAIR TRADE RULING—By a vote of 6-to-3, the supreme court ruled that merchants who did not sign fair-trade agreements are free to charge cut-rate prices if they wish.

Under the laws of 45 states, distributors of trade-mark or brand goods may enter into agreements with retail dealers to sell their products at filed minimum prices. Under the new court ruling, however, the home town merchant who did not sign such a contract or agreement can sell the product at whatever price he desires.

The only states not having fair-trade laws are Vermont, Texas, and Missouri.

The ruling will have little effect on most classes of merchandise as long as business is good, most Main Street businessmen believe. This would not hold true, however, if business went into a slump.

LAND BOOM OF 1950

Farm Mortgage Debt Up 8 Per Cent

The agriculture department reported recently the land boom of 1950 boosted the farm real-estate debt 8 per cent, totaling $5,800,000,000 at the end of the year. Likewise, the rising demand and increased prices for farm commodities led farmers to add to their non-real-estate debt. They borrowed heavily to buy additional equipment and machinery.

The department said the real-estate mortgage debt, however, was only 54 per cent of the record reached in 1923. Twelve states have a higher mortgage debt than in the peak year of 1923. These are New Hampshire, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Delaware, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, Florida, Tennessee, Alabama, Louisiana and New Mexico.

REUNITED FAMILY . . . Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway was reunited with his family recently when his wife and small son, Matty, arrived in Tokyo. It was a big day all around for the general, new supreme commander of allied forces in the far east. President Truman nominated him for his fourth star, making him a full general, subject to senate approval. The general and his family were reunited at the airport in Tokyo on the big day.

SELLOUT . . . Mickey Cohen examines revolver from his collection of old guns that went on sale to raise money for his income tax suit. The Beverly Hills gambler's collection was valued at around $7,000 before he decided to sell them.

INTIMATE CHAT . . . Israeli Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion (right) has a friendly talk with Professor Albert Einstein (left) at the professor's home in Princeton, New Jersey. The prime minister from Israel made the visit to the aged mathematician on the first leg of his planned nationwide tour to spur the support of the American public for the half-a-billion-dollar independence bond issue drive for Israeli relief.

ASKS TWO MILLION . . . Mrs. Eunice Walterman, Kansas City, has filed two million dollar suit against Myron Taylor, former U.S. representative to Vatican, charging conspiracy to prevent her claim she is his daughter.

BOLIVIAN REBEL . . . Victor Paz Estensoro, whose revolutionary group polled nearly half the votes in recent Bolivian election, says he is not pro Red. A military junta took over country and he fled to Buenos Aires for safety from attempts on his life.

NO SALE . . . A raspberry from the law was all two young men got when they tried to burglarize a candy store in New York recently. Here, we see one of the subjects, Ralph Dominquez, 21, being forcibly assisted from the window by a policeman after he and Harry Pangabean, 19, were caught in the act by the cops. The two boys were accused also of stealing a car which was removed before the owner knew it was gone.

REFUSES BRONZE STAR . . . Mrs. Avera Talley, Los Angeles, refuses posthumous Bronze Star for her son Sidney, killed in Korea, until the government will give more information on how he was killed. Star is for gallantry in action.

TAKE THAT, YOU DEVIATIONIST . . . The ducking gent here is Darius La Corre, leader of a newly-formed Communist movement in Paris. The new group is independent of Moscow and is written down by regular Reds as Titoist, or deviationist. Le Corre's duck resulted from a pass by the unidentified regular Communist at right who intruded into a press conference where Le Corre was explaining the aims of the new party and swung at Le Corre.

SOBERING EXPERIENCE . . . Actor John Agar, Shirley Temple's ex-husband, was married in Las Vegas to Loretta Barnett, after being refused license because he was "intoxicated." He drank black coffee and walked around block.

THE WASHINGTON Merry-Go-Round

BY...DREW PEARSON

Iron Curtain Trade

FOR SOME time this column has called attention to the shipment of war materials behind the Iron Curtain by European nations.

Most people don't realize that a steady trickle of strategic materials have been reaching Communist countries from the U.S.A. Here are some American firms which have been transshipping:

1. Rolfe G. Grote of New York, who sent chemicals to Switzerland, later transshipped them to Soviet Russia.

2. The Pacific Trading Corporation of Boston which transshipped steel plates to Communist China.

3. The Harris Chemical Corporation of New York which obtained a license to ship chemicals to Belgium, then transshipped them to Communist Czechoslovakia.

Last December 27 this column also revealed that the Aluminum Corporation of Canada, an affiliate of the Mellon-controlled Aluminum Corporation of America, had shipped 3,000,000 pounds of aluminum to Communist Czechoslovakia, and 1,000,000 pounds of aluminum to Communist Poland, at a time when the American public was getting dangerously short.

Tax Tempers

There were some stormy dissents inside the house ways and means committee before it tentatively approved a 3 per cent, across-the-board boost in individual income taxes.

"This is an unfair imposition on the lower-bracket taxpayers," insisted Democrat Wilbur Mills of Arkansas. "Most of the new revenue in this legislation will come from the lower brackets anyhow, so why saddle the poor man with the same rate of increase as the upper-bracket taxpayer?"

Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, who favored a graduated increase from 2 to 4 per cent on incomes up to $10,000 a year, also strongly opposed the across-the-board formula. So did another Democrat, John Dingell of Michigan.

Dingell was furious because the committee had raised corporation taxes only to 52 per cent instead of the 55 per cent, as recommended by the treasury.

"The coffers of some of these big companies are bulging with unexpended cash," exclaimed Dingell. "That's where the fat is. It isn't in the little man's pocket. I'm against all these excise taxes too, which are paid by the consumers—and that applies to excises on automobiles made in my own home town.

"America lives on wheels," said the congressman from Detroit. "But if you cripple the automobile industry by increasing excises to the point where the average fellow can't afford to buy a new car you are threatening the future of our whole economy."

Rep. Dan Reed of New York, the committee's No. 1 Republican, said he was willing to "go along" by not raising individual income taxes at all. While Democrats pinched themselves to be sure they weren't dreaming, Reed hastened to explain:

"If we cut non-essential government spending to the bone, maybe we wouldn't need a tax bill."

In the showdown, however, Reed and other committee Republicans voted solidly for the income-tax boost which hits little incomes as much as it does big.

Korean Air Disaster

The American public has shown its ability to take the bad news along with the good and therefore has a right to know about our worst air disaster of the Korean war. So far the facts have not been released at the Pentagon.

Last month, however, 40 B-29 superfortresses, escorted by jet fighters, bombed the international bridge connecting Sinuiju, North Korea, with Antung, Manchuria. The B-29's were hugging so close to the Manchurian border that one side was exposed and approximately 100 Russian MIG-15 jet fighters hit them from the exposed Manchurian side, breaking up the formation.

Two B-29's were shot down, a third was listed as missing but was seen crashing into the sea. Seven of the big superfortresses had to crash-land in South Korea, while one was badly damaged but made it back to the home base.

Washington Pipeline

American scientists are unable to understand why the Russians have exploded only one A-bomb. Our most elaborate devices have detected no indication that the Kremlin has set off a second atomic explosion. Some of our experts feel that the Reds have found a method of detonating their bombs which eludes our instruments. Others claim the Russians are so far behind the U.S. that they would merely show their lack of progress by exploding another.

While often otherwise caused, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

It's Wonderful the Way Chewing-Gum Laxative Acts Chiefly to REMOVE WASTE —NOT GOOD FOOD

● Here's the secret millions of folks have discovered about FEEN-A-MINT, the modern chewing-gum laxative. Yes, here is why FEEN-A-MINT's action is so wonderfully different!

Doctors say that many other laxatives start their "flushing" action too soon—right in the stomach where food is being digested. Large doses of such laxatives upset digestion, flush away nourishing food you need for health and energy. You feel weak, worn out.

But gentle FEEN-A-MINT, taken as recommended, works chiefly in the lower bowel where it removes only waste, not good food! You avoid that typical weak, tired, worn-out feeling. Use FEEN-A-MINT and feel your peppy, energetic self! Get FEEN-A-MINT! No increase in price—still 25¢, 50¢ or only 10¢.

CAPITOL - COUNTY
News Letter
BY
ASSEMBLYMAN RALPH R. CLOYED

Veterans Bonus Measure Killed. The proposed constitutional amendment, if passed by the Legislature, would have been on the ballot for the voters to decide in the 1952 general elections and would have provided bonuses for 1,500,000 veterans of world war 2 and the war in Korea. The amendment called for a bond issue of $350,000,000 to finance bonuses of $500 for over-sea veterans and $250 for those in domestic service.

The bonds would have been retired over a 10 year period at a total cost of $385,000,000 including interest. The measure was defeated by a 17 to 4 vote by the Assembly Ways and Means Committee.

Assembly Rules Change Proposed by a determined drive. A revision of the political powerful Process Committee headed by Randal F. Dickey and authorized to act during the session as well as the interim would be abolished. The system would provide for an elective Rules Committee of three Republicans and three Democrats with the speaker as the chairman, making a three to four vote for the party in power and would cure the power of both the Rules Committee Chairman and the Speaker.

Speaker Sam Collins is expected to be a candidate for the Senate in the next election and from rumors in the Capitol corridor many consider the revision a strategy play for position in the next speakership election after Speaker Collins retirement, which will result in an inevitable political power struggle between factions in the Assembly including members of both parties.

The important Assembly Rules Committee as an elective rather than an appointive body would become, in effect, an elective committee on committees with authority to name all other committee personnel and to assign all bills—the Speaker now having that power.

Drug Sales Tax Exempt when sold on prescription by registered pharmacists has been passed by both houses of the legislature and sent to the Governor's desk. The measure, SB 1818, was sponsored by Senator Fred Kraft of San Diego.

Child Care Centers bill (strongly urged by Governor Warren) a $5,381,943 bill for a one-year continuation of child care centers after June 1 has been sent to the Senate floor and is ready for roll call.

The Senate Finance Committee substituted S. B. 65 by Kraft for A. B. 3410 by Geddes which contained an appropriation of $6,071,000 for two years compared with Kraft's bill appropriating $5,381,943 for one year. An amendment restricts state aid to 20c an hour per child. Thirty-seven percent of the cost of child care centers is carried by parents contributions based on their incomes. Governor Warren said the amendment "far too restrictive to make a satisfactory program" but that he would favor the measure rather than see the system fold up at the end of the month.

Social Welfare bills killed by the Assembly Social Welfare committee headed by Assemblywoman Kathryn Nicholson. Three bills: (1) S. B. 1614 would raise from $1,200 to $600 the personal property and from $3,500 $3,000 the real property that aged pensioners or blind recipients can own (2) S. B. 1591 would require County approval of pensioners to sell property. (3) S. B. 585 would give priority for money recovered from deceased pensioners. Senator Weybret, the author of these bills, said that they provided a system of tightening state pension laws.

Probably the best news of the week, especially as far as I am concerned, was my success in being appointed on the Joint Water Problems Committee, composed of members of both the Senate and the Assembly. This is extremely important to San Diego County and gives the extreme Southern Counties a membership on a water committee, which they no longer had since the death of Assemblyman Butters who was formerly Vice-Chairman.

CLEM WHITAKER, Jr.

Catapulted into the limelight last week, after lying dormant for some months, was the "end cross filing in California" issue.

With a six point statement, backed by carefully drawn supplementary material, the California State Chamber of Commerce announced its opposition to the initiave seeking repeal of cross-filing.

To date, the move to end cross-filing has California Republicans about as split as the Democrats are on the move to referendum the congressional reapportionment measure. Backing the repeal of cross-filing, at last count, was a committee headed by Republican Edward H. Tickle, former State Senator from Monterey County and Democrat John B. Elliott, Los Angeles attorney.

Joining Tickle and Elliott in support of abolishing cross-filing is a potent committee of Democrats, Republicans, labor leaders and representatives of the League of Women Voters.

Ben Swing, one of the group and prominent in San Francisco Republican affairs, states the position of the pro-repeal of cross-filing people as follows: "I'm against the present system. There ought to be two parties in California and we're going to try to establish them—securely."

In answer, the State Chamber lists the six reasons why it opposes the move to abolish cross-filing. States the Chamber:

1. California has been free from the blight of party bossism primarily because of the freedom of cross-filing.

2. Each competitor for public office is entitled to receive not only the votes of every elector who supports him on the ground of personal preference, but of all who would support him as their party nominee. If the members of a party seek to select as their candidate one affiliated with another party or no party, that is their privilege.

3. Direct primary should put its partisan requirements on the voter and not on the candidate. Only members of the party should be entitled to vote in the party's primary, but if they wish to nominate as their candidate a member of some other party, that should be their privilege.

4. In a State Government, strict party tests are impossible.

5. Any body of electors has the right to choose whom it pleases for office and to appeal to the whole electorate in his behalf.

6. The fact that our primary law provides that a person cannot take the nomination of the other party without winning the nomination of his own party and is prohibited from sitting in the other party's convention is ample protection for the principle of party responsibility.

Governor Warren, on the basis of his non-partisan record, also has spoken out against abolishing cross-filing.

Even at this early stage, it is apparent that a good case can be made by both sides to the cross-filing dispute.

If you mean to act nobly and seek to know the best things God has put within reach of men, you must learn to fix your mind on that end and not on what will happen to you because of it.—George Eliot.

Pretty Church Wedding Sunday

Miss Marlene Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff E. Campbell, of San Diego, became the bride of Robert Ahrensberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans C. Ahrensberg, 1941 Washington, at rites in First Presbyterian Church, San Diego, Sunday at 2:30 p. m., with Rev. Thomas Coyle officiating.

Miss Rosemary Rademacher, vocalist was accompanied at the organ by Ethel Kennedy.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin and lace and a fingertip veil fastened to a crown of lace and orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white carnations.

H. S. Music Department Visits Lemon Grove

By KAREN DAWSON

The Grossmont High School Band presented a musical program to the students of the Lemon Grove School, including the junior high classes, at 9:30 a. m. last Thursday under the direction of Harold G. Lutz. The first number presented was "Klaxon March," followed by selections from the Broadway musical, "South Pacific," including "Bali High" and "Some Enchanted Evening." Al Kiefer played a baritone solo, "The Wanderer," and Roy Winton presented a trombone solo, "A Ballad for Evening." Background music for both numbers was furnished by the band. The program ended with a snappy march, "Born Basco." All the boys and girls enjoyed the program, and were pleased to see so many former Lemon Grove students in the band. An excellent music program will be offered to all students attending Helix High School next year.

7-1 Class in Talent Show

Members of the 7-1 class of Junior High were well represented at the Talent Show at the school last Friday evening when youngsters from the entire community participated in a show to help raise funds for a summer recreation program. Among those from Mrs. Darroch's room who sang or played at the show were Janice Jowett, Peggy Lester, Shirley Quist, Beryl Scott, John Bates, James Balch, Ronnie Swalsatd, Allen Newton, John Pfister, Arvis Reed and Eugene Westmoreland.

Fifth Graders Visit Canneries

The fifth graders from the classes of Robert Sutton and Mrs. June Mason enjoyed an excursion to the Westgate Tuna Cannery in San Diego last Wednesday. They witnessed the cleaning and canning of the commercial fish, and learned many interesting facts about the industry.

Lemon Grove and La Mesa First Aid Graduates

J. Rolland Purves, teacher at the Lemon Grove School, announces that the following people recently completed a Standard Red Cross First Aid course at the Lemon Grove School: Nathan Bishop, Frances Cavallin, Margarite Christian, Gene Cooper, Belle Ellis, Donovan Ellis, Gladys Halversen, Teresa Haraldon, John Hein, Marie Milner, Thelma Mulder, Mary Rolnisk and Marthena Steinhoff.

At La Mesa where Mr. Purves conducted a class in First Aid, the following are now qualified in first aid work: Mmes. Mildred Bowers, Beatrice Faulkner, Inez Fuller, Volney R. Hansen, Mary Hawkins, Faith Huckins, Carolyn Hunt, June G. Jackson, Jessie Leggett, Mary McCann, Lydia L. Mihalka, Ruby Miller, Blanche J. Smith, Johanna H. Williams and Mr. W. R. Miller.

Sixth Graders Make Trip to Airport

The sixth graders from Mrs. Loy Holmquist's class visited the La Presa Airport at Spring Valley as part of their study of transportation last Monday. Mothers from the class furnished transportation for the group, with private cars. At the airport they were met by Mrs. Otis who conducted the tour of the field. Jerry Mulder was privileged to climb into the cockpit of a Cessna plane and examine the interior. The group was told how important it is that parts of a plane be in perfect condition before flight is attempted.

Airmaps were demonstrated, showing radio beams and danger areas. The class saw that all the coast of California is in the defense area. They returned to school at 11:30 a. m. where further discussions of air travel were held. Jean Brice, of the sixth grade, acted as class reporter for the excursion.

Pupils Honor Engaged Teacher

Sixth grade pupils of Mr. Beal's sixth grade class honored their teacher, who is to wed Miss Dorothy Sutter this summer, with a surprise party last Monday. Coke, punch and ice cream were served to the members of his class, the two room mothers, Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Ellis, to Miss Helmesend, Mrs. Evelyn Lauritzen, and the honored guest, Mr. Beals. The class presented him with a lovely glass Lazy-susen as a wedding gift.

Boys Receive Palomar Trip

Seven members of the School Safety Patrol, at Lemon Grove, will be guests of the State Highway Patrol at Camp Palomar, for a period of fun and leisure, from June 18 through June 22.

The camp is very modern, featuring movies, slides, talent acts, library and many games.

Donald Newton, Roy Bottini, Laird Hodge, Barney Tumey, Ronald Netzley, Travis Keeton and Richard Day are looking forward to an exciting time in the mountains.

Monterey Heights School

Second Annual Field Day at Monterey Heights School

Monterey Heights School presented Field Day to parents and other visitors on the school grounds last Friday. "Realizing the importance of strong and healthy bodies, we place an important emphasis on physical education," said W. A. Thomas, principal. "The activities presented are examples of those we use to develop the various skills needed by the children as they go through the growing-up process. The steady growth in poise, coordination of body movements, and ability to engage in cooperative team play can be noted during this demonstration."

The Lemon Grove School Band, under the direction of Paul Cheatham, played several selections to open the program. The kindergarten classes, with Miss Salandini and Mrs. Stanton, presented rhythm games; Mrs. Lowery's first graders, demonstration of folk dancing; Mrs. Reilly's first grade, a bean bag game; Mrs. Smith's first grade, a dance; a folk dance by Mrs. Bowen's second grade was next on the program; Mrs. M. Smith's second grade, team work game; Mrs. Sze's second grade, Bluebird Dance; Mrs. Kennedy's third grade, crossover relay; Mrs. Richie's third graders, double-dodge ball; the fourth grade, with Mrs. Stocking, folk dance; Mrs. Holmes' fourth grade, double-dodge ball; Mr. Polizzi's fifth graders, bounce ball; and Mr. Allen's sixth grade group, square dancing. "Heads and Sides," "Ladies' Chain," and "Duck for the Oyster."

M. H. Second Graders Visit Dairy

The second grade boys and girls in Mrs. Bowen's room have been studying about milk—how it is produced, processed, and distributed, and its importance in our diet. After reading about it and seeing a film on the subject the class visited Miller's Dairy on May 24. During the informative tour, the boys and girls asked many questions which were courteously answered by Mr. Miller who conducted the trip and served the young visitors ice cream. Mrs. Charles Brown, Mrs. Alvin Cardora, Mrs. Millard McKinney and Mrs. Jesse Mitchell provided transportation and assisted Mrs. Bowen on the trip.

Miller's Dairy was the scene of extra activity early this week when Mrs. Sze's second grade children visited there. Many questions were asked and the children gained a first-hand knowledge of the story of milk. The visit was a culmination of the study of the dairy farm. Stories, reports by the children, and films had preceeded and laid the ground work for the tour.

It was astonishing that in our community there were some children who had never been close enough to a cow to pet it before this trip. The following parents furnished cars for the excursion: Mr. Plummer, Mrs. Maehing, Mrs. Nery, Mrs. McCaughey, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Stanley.

Class Reviews Accomplishments

By ROGER CONLEE

The 8-4 class at Lemon Grove, students of homeroom teacher F. J. Egan, reviewed the things they have accomplised during the 1950-51 school term.

They were the first class to give a bake sale to the student body during lunch period. This they did very successfully, reports Jim Pratt, who was at that time room treasurer.

Last Fall they worked hard on the Westward Movement project, writing biographies, making maps and charts of the various routes to the West.

Their first class party was held just before the Christmas vacation, featuring dancing, with recorded music, refreshments, and games.

Last month, when the stork delivered a third Egan to the family, the class presented its teacher with a lovely gift for the baby.

Now they are all working hard on their Constitution and other high school preparation tests. High school is just around the bend and the students are all doing their best on the examinations.

The 8-4 group is also proud of the many students who have become leaders in the school. Marilyn Punch, Barbara Rapp, Barbara Balch and many others have been tops in the music department. Roger Conlee was student council secretary during the first semester and has been school paper editor. Jim Pratt was both class and student body treasurer. He and Barbara Balch are now council representatives from the class.

Now with graduation near, everyone is looking forward to the exercises on June 14. Of the five students who are to speak on that night, this room has provided two of them: Barbara Balch and Roger Conlee.

Girl Scout

Brownie Troop 308 will have the last party of the year next Tuesday at the home of the leader, Mrs. R. A. Jones, 7630 Canton at 7 p. m., with mothers as guests. The Brownies will conduct a business meeting and will also have entertainment. Refreshments will be served. Mrs. Richard Hicks is the co-leader.

LETTER

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Graham: We are writing to thank you for taking us through the printing plant and showing us the machines and how they are operated.

The visit was very interesting and we learned much about the printing of a newspaper. Sincerely, Mr. Purves' sixth grade room 2.

Lopat Sets New Earned-Run Record

By GRANTLAND RICE

The Futile Assignment

It is all very well to have stood with the greats,
To have gathered your garlands of fame,
It is all very well to have outbunked the fates,
To have reached for a headliner's name,

But when you are slipping—as everyone does—
And the dirge has supplanted the sonnet;
Remember how quickly a name gathers fuzz—
Don't try to get anything on it.

New York—The next essay should be turned in the general direction of one Edmund Lopat, a left-handed pitcher with the Yankees. Ed Lopat won his first six games, but actually his record is better than that. In an era where any pitcher who permits less than 3 earned runs each season is a hero, Lopat permitted an earned-run average of .60 in his first five games, an all-time record as far as we can excavate into the past.

Grantland Rice

Lopat is another rare character in a new form. He is one of the few living citizens who was born in New York City. This happy event, for the Yankees, took place in June, 1918, just 33 years ago.

In spite of his brilliant start, life this year was not all milk and honey for left-hander Lopat. Eddie started as a first baseman with Greensburg in the Pennsylvania State League, then moved to Jeanerette, deep in the bush, in 1937. That was some 14 years ago. He worked with Jeanerette, Kilgore, Shreveport, Longview, Marshall, Salina, Oklahoma City, and Little Rock before he finally reached the White Sox in 1948. He won 11 and dropped 10 for the White Sox that year, a rare achievement any season while pitching for the White Sox.

Starting the 1951 campaign Lopat has won 100 and lost 78 games for a winning average of .562. It is a much better average now with his 1951 start.

Lefty Lopat is now thinking of writing a book called "Life Begins at 33." In this three years with the Yankees, up to 1951, Lopat has won 50 games up through 1950 and lost only 29. He waited 13 pro seasons before getting the best start he has ever known. Last season Lopat won 18 and lost 8 for his best record to date. Unless someone starts throwing hand grenades, 1951 should be by all odds his best year.

Two Records to Match

In checking Eddie Lopat's amazing 1951 record, plus the record of other stars, we pause at the marks set by one Grover Cleveland Alexander, plus another set of marks established by Walter Johnson.

In 1915 Alexander's earned-run mark was 1.22. It was 1.55 in 1916 and 1.83 in 1917. After the war Alex gave the game 1.72 in 1919 and 1.91 in 1920. Here were five years where Alexander allowed less than two earned runs a game, working over 403 innings each year.

He had been yanked away from his game for a year, joining the army in 1917, or he might easily have set a league-leadership mark for six consecutive years.

In 1912 the American League had no earned run average or Johnson might have set a new mark. That was one of his greatest seasons. But in 1913 he had an average of 1.14 per game, 1.71 in 1914, 1.55 in 1915, 1.89 in 1916, 1.28 in 1918 and 1.55 in 1919.

Here were eleven years of great pitching by two of the games best —Alexander and Johnson, Old Pete and Big Barney. No one can expect Lopat to match marks of this type in the modern era when pitchers who allows less than three earned runs are regarded as having a touch of magic.

Early Wynn of Cleveland led all A.L. pitchers last season with the chubby mark of 3.20, a long hop from Johnson's 1.14. The big slump in pitching skill or the arrival of the rubber ball took place in 1921. Since then only Hal Newhouser, Carl Hubbell, Howie Pollet and Mort Cooper have operated under the two-earned run count.

Where the People Go

NEW YORK, May—It may, or it may not, interest you to know where your fellow human beings go in searching for a favorite sport. Also just how the trend is today—whether up or whether down. We might as well start with baseball, the most harassed of sports by television's savage invasion.

In 1949 major league baseball drew 20,215,365 people. The minors were healthy with television just warming up.

In 1950 major league baseball drew 17,462,977 fans, with the minors skidding badly. Baseball, or rather major league baseball, lost over 2,000,000 patrons in a year.

SPORTSMAN'S HORIZON By JIM RHODY

Sportsmen's ABC's

In a land founded upon the passionate desire for freedom, rules and regulations governing individual actions are always looked upon askance, regardless of how necessary they may be for the general welfare. This is particularly true among a great many hunters and anglers, according to Henry P. Davis, public relations manager, Remington Arms Company, Inc.

"But," says Davis, "there is much more to sportsmanship that the mere practice of to-the-letter obedience to the game laws. A man may never violate a game law or break a club rule and still not be a real sportsman, for he may be restraining from doing these things because he has to, not because he wants to. Real sportsmanship cannot be defined or bounded by rules. It is imbedded in an inherent sense of fair play, which one may or may not possess.

"There are certain maxims, however, that are worthy of constant remembrance, lest you carelessly or thoughtlessly stray from proper field behavior. They are not rules, just reminders. As they run the gamut of the alphabet I call them ABC's for Sportsmen. They could just as well be called XYZ's, too, I think they're worth looking over. Here they are:

Always practice safe gunhandling.
Be considerate of the landowner. You are his guest.
Conduct yourself as a SPORTSMAN should.
Don't be a game-hog.
Educate youth in the principles of sportsmanship.
Favor the fellow who is hunting with you.
Give wildlife a break. Work for its conservation.
Have the location of your hunting partner always in mind.
Influence others to hunt safely.
Join a sportsman's organization.
Keep that gun muzzle elevated.
Leave some game for seed-stock.
Make sure of your target before you shoot.
Never leave a cripple to go to waste.
Obey the game laws to the letter.
Put yourself in the other fellow's place. Treat him accordingly.
Quit harping about game shortages and do something about it.
Retrieve every piece of game you knock down.
Share your game bag with the farmer.
Take a boy, other than your own, hunting or fishing.
Unite your fellow sportsmen in a common effort to provide better hunting and fishing.
Value, and protect, your privilege to own and bear firearms.
Work for all sound game management measures.
X may mark the spot if you mix gunpowder and alcohol.
Young America's future field sport depends on You.
Zeal in game restoration activities will pay big dividends.

Crow Hunting

It is always a good policy to ask the farmer for permission to kill crows on his property. He will gladly consent. Ask him where the crows have been flying, and he will give you this valuable information. Protect his property while hunting, and thank him for the use of his woods when you bid him goodbye. This is most important. It builds up good relationships between the farmer and the sportsmen; and finally, when the rabbit and squirrel season is open and you want a place to hunt, step in again and ask permission to hunt—even if his land is posted, we are sure you will find a pleasant welcome.

Give Wildlife Break!

The heaviest loss of wildlife on highways occurs in the spring. At this time of year, cover is at its lowest effectiveness. Last season's vegetation flattened by wind, snow and rain, no longer provides a satisfactory hiding place in much of the normal game area, and new vegetation has not yet provided satisfactory cover. As a result many species of wildlife are forced to the dangerous protection of the sheltered roadside ditches. Spring food supplies are low; weed seeds, insects, and waste grain are at a minimum in the fields. Consequently the grain shifted onto the road in farm to market movements from tempting and often deadly invitation to game birds and other forms of wildlife.

At this time the mating season is in full swing and results in wide traveling by some species and a total loss of fear and caution in many others.

Trout Behavior

Trout behave differently from bass at spawning time. Bass lay their eggs and guard the nest until the young ones hatch out and then look after the young for a considerable time. A bass will sometimes actually smash into a redtail, and keep on smashing it until he is dizzy if it comes close to his nest. In contrast, trout spill their eggs on the gravel, fertilize them, and then start eating them—or as many of them as they can reach.

SHORT STORY

Hard Boiled Chuck

By Richard H. Wilkinson

CHUCK WALLACE was a hard boiled. Women didn't bother him much. Figing did. He owned his own plane and specialized in doing free-lance jobs for private interests, and performing rescues for reward money. He had quite a reputation. When, at the annual pilots' ball, he was presented to red-headed Alma Mallory he wasn't impressed at all.

3-Minute Fiction

Alma was. She had heard of Chuck. Alma was very modern, very sure of herself, used to getting what she wanted. She wanted Chuck.

Chuck wasn't quick to catch on. When finally he realized what she was up to he had almost fallen into her trap. He was glad when news came in that a young flyer had been lost in the north woods. It gave him a chance to get away. The fact that the young lost flyer was Don Mallory, Alma's brother, didn't bother him at all. This was business. Old Man Mallory, through his lawyers, had offered a fat reward.

Chuck Wallace loaded up and took off the next morning in his seaplane. That night he set down on a little wooded lake, 150 miles from the nearest habitation, and established a base. The next day he began systematically to comb the country.

Alma was very modern, very sure of herself, used to getting what she wanted. And she wanted Chuck.

In the afternoon he returned to his base, and received a shock. There was another plane riding on the surface of the lake. He saw a figure standing on the shore. It was Alma Mallory.

"What's the idea?" he asked.

"What do you think? Don's my brother."

She had brought along a lot of the things Chuck hadn't thought necessary. There was nothing he could do about her being there, so he set up one of the tents and ate the supper she cooked for him.

The next day he flew west and covered a strip 25 miles wide. But he didn't sight anything, and was genuinely worried when he returned to the base that night.

THE next morning, just before noon, he sighted a plane on a lake 50 miles east of his base and set down, taxing up beside it. A man stood on one of the wings and called to him. Chuck scowled. He didn't like this. Not a bit of it. . . .

At 2 o'clock he returned to his base and found it deserted. Alma and her plane had gone. He swore and packed up his equipment. The next morning he reached his home landing. He went home and shaved and bathed and got into bed. He was dead tired, but he couldn't sleep.

The next morning he took a taxi to the Mallory home and asked for Alma. A butler told him that she had gone down to Briersfield to visit friends. The friends' name was Hanscom. Chuck caught a train for Briarsfield that afternoon. He arrived at 5 o'clock and located the Hanscom home. Alma, they told him, was out horseback riding with a chap named Rodney Nuys.

Chuck rented a horse and went looking for her. Two miles from the Hanscom home he came to a spot where the bridle trail widened. There were two horses in the clearing, standing close together. Rodney Nuys was trying to kiss the rider of the other, a red-headed girl.

Chuck rode up close and clipped the gent so hard he fell out of the saddle. Then he grabbed hold of the girl and shook her roughly.

"What's the idea?" he barked. "I found your brother in a little lake 50 miles east of the base. He was looking for us. He said he didn't think it was so smart for his sister to give out that he was lost, when he really wasn't—just so she could send Chuck Wallace up into the country and then follow. What's the idea?"

Alma looked at him defiantly. "What do you think?" she said. "You big indifferent lunkhead! And why do you think I gave up and came home?"

Chuck blinked, but maintained his hold on her arm. For the first time when looking at this girl, he grinned. "Do you want me to tell you what I think?" he asked.

"Yes," said Alma.

Ni-Hard

In the field of alloy cast irons an upward trend of use was observed in specialty products such as Ni-Hard in mining equipment. Following successful trials, Ni-Hard is being increasingly adopted for mill liners and grinding balls in the cement industry in Great Britain and elsewhere abroad.

Growth

The peanut, "the nut that is not a nut," is a legume like a pea or bean. The plant is strange, sending its seed pods under the surface of the soil to develop and mature. So to harvest peanuts, they must be dug. After that the plants and nuts are well dried before a threshing machine separates out the nuts.

SLAP STICK

Evidence

The visiting pastor at the state prison approached a timid looking inmate and asked him how he came to be confined in such a place. "Well," said the prisoner, "they claimed I stole a ring. I had a good case and my lawyer worked hard to get me off, but they sentenced me just the same." "My poor fellow. How unfortunate," exclaimed the pastor, puzzled by the seeming injustice. "But tell me, how did they happen to sentence you?" "Oh, it was quite an accident," explained the prisoner. "Everything would have been all right if they hadn't found the ring in my pocket."

One At A Time

The man who rows a boat does not have the time to rock it.

NOT SO TOUGH

The conductor of a famous Philadelphia orchestra accepted with equanimity the announcement that his first violinist was giving solos on the radio, indorsing cigarettes and playing for weddings and funerals. But when he also heard that the violinist was opening a string of music schools throughout the state, he grew concerned and summoned the man for a conference.

"I like a man with ambition and initiative," he declared, "but it seems to me you're carrying things a bit far. When do you sleep?"

The violinist looked him straight in the eye and answered, "During your rehearsals, Maestro."

All Too True!

Two drivers, from neighboring (and rival) states were having a bull session . . . each bragging about his own state. One of them, more wordy than the other, was getting the best of the argument.

Finally, the loser, as a last shot, said: "Well, in my state we have the finest governor and the best legislature that money can buy!"

GOOD ARITHMETIC

The Korean campaign has revived stories of fantastic poker games in rest areas, with GI's risking a whole month's salary on a single hand.

Typical is the tale of the Missouri farm hand who professed to know nothing of the game. His buddies saw a chance for some easy pickings and enthusiastically urged him to participate.

He lost moderately and unspectacularly for some time.

Then came the big hand of the evening.

One after another, the players raised the limit. The Missourian stayed each time. Finally came the showdown.

Player No. 1 had an ace-high straight. No. 2 had a heart flush. No. 3 triumphantly produced a king-high full house, and was about to rake in the pot when the boy from Missouri said quietly, "One minute, mister. I ain't quite sure, but I think I got you beat with these two pairs of sevens."

What, We Pray?

Don't you often wonder why it is that they always talk about a doctor practicing.

STOP SIGN

The passenger train had stopped at one of those crossovers where an interlocking tower stood. The conductor courteously answered as many questions about the delay as he could but they finally got the better of his patience.

"Say, conductor, what's the matter?" came yet another query.

"Well, sir," explained the conductor slowly, "the leverman in the tower has red hair and keeps sticking his head out the window and we can't get the engineer to pass the tower!"

Captain Hadacol — of comic book fame and the Clown Bozo direct from Hollywood, will make a personal appearance before youngsters of the Lemon Grove area at the Lindley Rexall Drug Store 7785 Broadway, Friday evening June 8th from 7 to 9 p. m.

The Superman is touring territories served by Hadacol and visits cities, towns, communities, business firms, schools and orphanages. The 50-inch chested—and mind you, no pads either—Captain Hadacol is the personal representative of Senator Dudley LeBlanc of the state of Louisiana, originator and manufacturer of you know what. Captain Hadacol in a comic book of the same name, jumps mountains, wins an occasional war, solves a few random murders and plays leap frog over the Empire State Building. In real life, Captain Hadacol is Art Yancovich. The Superman and Clown Bozo have an entertaining program of thrills and fun and also give away free comic books and other favors.

Personal Briefs

Lieut. and Mrs. Earl R. Short and daughter, Janet, are house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Blake, Waite drive. The Lieutenant has recently returned from duty in China.

Pastor Charles Betz, 1721 Glencoe Drive, of the 7th-Day Adventist Church will leave for Detroit, Mich., Wednesday, to drive a new car home. He expects to be gone about a week.

Mrs. Harriett Rothwill received word today of the death of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Bertha Fitzgerald at her home in Chicago on Wednesday. Mrs. Fitzgerald had many acquaintances here, having visited here last December.

A personal pre-nuptial shower was given for Miss Martha Fields on Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. C. S. Campbell of La Mesa. Included were Mmes. Jack Gibbs, of San Diego; Wendall Watson and Raymond Gustafson of Chula Vista; Wm. Biggs, J. W. Mulder, Luther Fields, Carl McFarland and Miss Edith Robinson. Miss Fields will become the bride of Milton R. Reagan on June 17 in the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Leo Wilbert, 1760 Dupont entertained with a miscellaneous shower on Friday, honoring Miss Martha Fields, bride-elect of Milton Reagan. The table holding the gifts was laid in lace and centered with an umbrella of pink frills from which showered Cecil runner rose buds. Other guests were Mmes. I. C. Orr, W. A. Hawkins, Roland Cole, Orvis Eeckman, Jack Lowery, Thermon Mattsinger, Wendall Watson and Luther Fields.

IT'S A GIRL

A sweet little daughter, Ann Louisa was born to Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Brackett Jr., 7317 Mt. Vernon, on May 22 at Mercy Hospital. She has a sister Roberta, three years, and a brother David, 19 months. Little David was in the hospital with the flu at the same time and came home the same day as mother and Ann on May 27.

GIRL SCOUT LUNCHEON

The Neighborhood Club will give a luncheon in Vista La Mesa Christian Church on June 19 as a benefit for Girl Scouts.

Baseball playoffs are coming up at Lemon Grove Junior High. They will be held during next week on the school grounds.

Little League baseball, which is a small version of regular hardball, and played by boys from eight to 12 years is making the rounds again this year. In this area there are two leagues, one in El Cajon and one in San Diego. El Cajon teams are sponsored by the valley service clubs. Three of the San Diego teams are backed by the aircraft companies, and a fourth is promoted by Neighborhood House. The current Little League season has been in progress several weeks.

Gillespie Pool, which is very popular about Lemon Grove in the summer, opens this Sunday, June 10. Swimming is from 12:30 to 6:00 in the afternoon. A special evening swim program will be held on Wednesday and Friday nights beginning shortly. The pool is located at Gillespie Air Field, near Santee. You can start taking your swim suits out of the mothballs, you aqua-enthusiasts!

Softball will be in style this summer at schools of the Lemon Grove district. The P. T. A. sponsored Summer Recreation Program will have several leagues for boys from third grade through eighth. A girls league may even be organized if there is enough enthusiasm.

Everybody is hollering about the OPS regulations, but so long as they continue to vote for the New Deal, Fare Deal, Raw Deal and Rotten Deal they will be hounded by bureaucrats bent on keeping their jobs. America ain't what she used to be.

Highway Warning

Soft-hearted motorists are warned by the FBI that their kindness in picking up hitchhikers may be the death of them.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover issued the warning to vacationing drivers as a result of a number of vicious assaults by persons picked up on the highway. Said Hoover: "Vacationing motorists are cautioned to be alert to the danger of attack by criminals who may be posing in the guise of innocent hitchhikers along the highways of the Nation. A review of cases reported to the FBI indicates an increasing number involving individuals who pick up strangers along the highway and are victimized, robbed and in some instances murdered."

Thoughtfulness of others is a wonderful thing, but before you take a complete stranger into your car give some thought to your own safety and the welfare of your family or those driving with you.

It's better for a hitchhiker to walk than for you to ride—in an ambulance or a hearse.
